The World Summit will launch an international harmonization process on accessibility standards for tourist attractions and facilities as well as for transportation services. It will also advance the economic benefits of being fully inclusive and accessible. Kéroul is working closely with the volunteer sector, business community, tourism industry and government to improve accessibility everywhere and for all. As a result, we are greatly honoured to invite you to discover what Montréal offers in terms of accessibility.

For those wishing to prolong their stay in Montréal and discover its many attractions, we invite you to consult our guide to Montréal neighbourhood tours. This brochure proposes a range of neighbourhood tours along with suggestions for dining out, activities, shows and souvenir shops. It also provides information on local accessibility and adapted transport.

Kéroul is proud to have helped organize the World Summit Destinations for All. On behalf of Kéroul, we wish you a most pleasant stay.

Access to the PALAIS DES CONGRÈS

All entrances to the Palais des congrès (convention centre) are wheelchair accessible with automatic doors. There are also a number of access doors.

Certain intersections have audio-signal traffic lights: Saint-Urbain and Viger, Bleury and Saint-Antoine, and Bleury and Viger.

BY BUS OR METRO

The Palais des congrès is located at the Place d’Armes metro stop on the orange line (please note that the yellow line will be closed on Sunday, October 19).

Bus lines 55 and 129 both stop at the Palais des congrès. (Bus 129 has been temporarily rerouted and currently travels along René-Lévesque and southbound Saint-Urbain.) A one-way ticket costs $3.

You can also take bus 747, which connects with the Berri-UQAM metro station. The stop closest to the Palais des congrès is at the corner of René-Lévesque and Saint-Laurent. From there, you can walk to the convention centre or take bus 55 southbound on nearby Saint-Urbain (one block west).

To find a bus with a front-door access ramp, check the STM Website, where ramp-equipped buses are indicated on the bus schedules. A mobile app is also available for iPhone and Android.

www.stm.info

Seven stations on the orange line can be accessed by elevator: Montmorency, de la Concorde, Cartier, Berri-UQAM, Lionel-Groulx, Henri-Bourassa and Côte-Vertu. For more information on accessibility at these stations, consult the STM Website.

BY CAR

Reserved parking spots for vehicles bearing an accessible parking permit are available at the Viger parking lot (1025 Chenneville Street).

BY TAXI

Taxi Para-adapté is pleased to offer free 24/7 paratransit services to conference delegates for the duration of the event. To benefit from this offer, book your transport at least 60 minutes ahead of time through one of the means listed below. Be sure to say you were “referred by Kéroul.”

Reservations Taxi Para-adapté

N.B. Late-night transport (journeys after midnight) must be reserved 24 hours ahead of time.

The service is offered within a maximum radius of 25 km (15.5 mi.) around the Palais des congrès.
OLD MONTREAL
self-guided tour

A World Trade Centre Montréal
The World Trade Centre is a complex of 17 buildings built between 1840 and 1960. Inside, you’ll find remnants of the city’s colonial-era walled fortifications as well as a section of the Berlin Wall.

B Sainte-Hélène Street
Named in honour of the wife of Samuel de Champlain, the street’s 22 gas lamps evoke the lighting of the era.

C Place D’Youville
A public market was erected on this spot that was once crossed by the Rivière Saint-Pierre. It was named in honour of Marguerite d’Youville, one of the first residents of Ville-Marie and the founder of the Grey Nuns of Montréal.

D Musée Pointe-à-Callière
Set atop the city’s birthplace, Pointe-à-Callière is the only sizeable archaeological museum in Canada.

E Place Royale
Back in the day, Place Royale was the city’s economic hub, serving as a public square as well as a marketplace. Research into the site also reveals accounts of torture, public executions and military drills.

F Notre-Dame Basilica of Montréal
Besides being chock full of works of religious art, the Basilica is a work of art in and of itself. Its interior was inspired by that of Sainte-Chapelle in Paris.

G Place d’Armes
Place d’Armes is surrounded by buildings that bear witness to high points in the history of Ville-Marie: the Bank of Montréal head office, the Old Saint-Sulpice Seminary, the Alfred Building, the New York Life Building and many more.
OLD MONTREAL
self-guided tour

H Place Jacques-Cartier
Built on the ashes of the former Château Vaudreuil, this summertime pedestrian mall is a popular gathering place for tourists, artists and buskers.

I Bonsecours Market
Inaugurated in 1847, Bonsecours was a public market that also served as city hall from 1852 to 1878. Today, this National Historic Site of Canada is home to exhibition spaces, restaurants and boutiques.

J Dalhousie Station
Built between 1883 and 1884, Dalhousie was the original eastern terminal for the transcontinental railway that opened in 1886 between Vancouver and Montréal. In recent years, the former station has housed the École nationale de cirque and is today home to Cirque Éloize.

K City Hall and Champ-de-Mars
Built between 1872 and 1878, this Second Empire-style building is the headquarters of Montréal’s city council. Its balcony was where, in 1967, French president Charles de Gaulle uttered his controversial phrase Vive le Québec libre (“Long live free Québec!”) at the end of his speech. Behind this National Historic Site of Canada is the Champ-de-Mars, a large park featuring remnants of the city’s fortifications in addition to stunning views of the skyline.

QUARTIER DES SPECTACLES
self-guided tour

QUARTIER DES SPECTACLES
Located in downtown Montreal, the Quartier des spectacles is the city’s cultural heart. Within its boundaries, you will find the highest concentration and the greatest diversity of cultural venues in North America. All year round, day or night, Montrealers and visitors head to the Quartier in droves, captivated and intrigued by its eight vibrant public spaces and no less than 40 festivals.

L Complexe Desjardins
Complexe Desjardins is a mixed-use office tower complex that is home to Desjardins Group, the Hyatt Regency Montréal and a mall featuring 110 shops and restaurants.

M Place des Arts
Canada’s largest cultural complex stages shows of every genre all year long in its six performance halls that can seat some 8,000 spectators.

N Place des Festivals
Built in 2008–09, Place des Festivals is a vast public space that features the largest array of interactive fountains in Canada, with 235 water jets illuminated by a changing lighting design.

O Promenade des artistes
Built atop reclaimed traffic lanes, the Promenade is today a public space with a changing roster of temporary exhibitions.

P La Vitrine
This centralized box office is one of the only sites where you can buy last-minute show tickets as well as book space on guided tours of the city.

Q Le Monument-National
Built between 1891 and 1893, the Monument National is the oldest theatre in Québec still in use today. With its striking Neo-Renaissance façade, the building has played a number of key roles, including serving as one of the first community centres.

R Chinatown
Montréal’s Chinatown (French: Quartier Chinois) is distinguished by its four great arched gates, a gift to the city from China. The neighbourhood teems with Asian food markets, restaurants and specialized shops.
UNDERGROUND MONTRÉAL
self-guided tour

UNDERGROUND MONTRÉAL
This tour takes you through the largest urban underground network in the world—a pedestrian mall known for its 2,000+ shops.

S Centre Infotouriste de Montréal
Multi-service tourist information bureau that provides information on the city and all Québec destinations as well as reservation services.

T Place Montréal Trust, Centre Eaton and Complexe les Ailes
Three major downtown shopping malls linked by the city’s underground network, with more than 285 shops in total.

U Sainte-Catherine Street
Sainte-Catherine Street boasts the largest concentration of shops in the country, with over 750 spread over a 10-km (6-mi.) stretch. Not for nothing is it the city’s main commercial artery!
